

Who do I contact for Indigenous Student Support at University and TAFE in Queensland?

www.ndco.stepscs.net.au

National Disability Coordination Officers (NDCO)

National Disability Coordination Officers (NDCOs) play a valuable role helping to increase the access and participation rates of students with disabilities to study at university or at TAFE and then move to employment. They perform a range of functions which are focused on the provision of practical assistance and support to organisations who assist students with disabilities to make the transition from school to university or from school to TAFE and then to employment.
